

National Seminar on Technology Transfer Offices possibilities and role in the Horizon 2020 program

Bergen Teknologioverføring (BTO) has received support from Norwegian Research Council for a pilot project aiming to define roles and areas for TTOs participation in application process for funding from Horizon 2020 program. The project includes analysis of services provided for both academic and industrial customers.

As a part of the project we are organizing a National Seminar on Technology Transfer Offices role in Horizon 2020. During the seminar we would like to present the views of experts, share our experiences from the project, and invite you to a discussion on the future of TTOs in European programs. You are cordially invited to our national seminar. The seminar is free of charge.

Time: Monday 9th of March 2015, 9:30 – 15:45

Place: Bergen, Clarion Hotel Bergen Airport

Deadline: Monday 2nd of March

Registration: <http://goo.gl/forms/a6WjnQ7qrV>

Please contact Malgorzata Barczyk (malgorzata.barczyk@bergento.no) if you have any questions. You can also find updated information about the seminar at <http://bergento.no/nationalseminar/>.

Agenda

09:30 - 10:00	Welcome and coffee
10:00 - 10:45	Introduction to Horizon 2020 Till Christopher Lech - Special Adviser at Norwegian Research Council
10:45 - 11:30	TTOs and H2020 Tom Flanagan - Director at Innovation and Technology Transfer Centre at Dublin Institute of Technology (DIT)
11:30 - 12:30	Lunch break
12:30 - 13:15	Other EU programs Inga Bruskeland - Senior Adviser at Norwegian Research Council
13.15 - 14:30	Horizon 2020 pilot project experience - BTO
14:30 – 14:45	Coffee break
14:45 - 15:30	Discussion
15:30 - 15:45	End of the Seminar

With funding from
The Research Council of Norway